ELLINIKO

Greek Pyramids

On the road that in the antiquity led from Argos to Tegea stands the pyramid of Hellinikon. This imposing monument located close to the springs of Erassinos river is unique in the whole Greece. It is built from large limestone blocks resembling the Egyptian burial places. Myths tell us that it was built as a common grave for soldiers fallen in the struggle for the throne of Argos in the 14th Century B.C. However, it had quite a different purpose. It was part of watch towers system protecting the roads 2500 years ago. There are few pyramids but none is so preserved as this one in Elliniko. Being only 20 minutes from the Nauplio it is a favorite spot for our guests.
